MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: Report of Contact with AECASSOWARY/2 on 17 July 1962

1. I met with A/2 and A/26 in the AEBEEHIVE office in New York for the purpose of clarifying items in the AEBEEHIVE quarterly accounting and to discuss the budget for Fiscal Year 1963. In talking about salary raises which A/2 had discussed with me on a previous occasion, A/2 told me that he has decided to postpone any action on raises for AEBEEHIVE employees until a later date. He is seriously considering dismissing A/19 from the organization and he feels it might be wiser to postpone salary increases until this is accomplished. A/2 had mentioned during previous contacts that A/19 is becoming a handling problem. It seems he has certain projects to which he devotes his full attention (after reading his ten morning newspapers), thereby making it difficult for A/2 to get him to work on any special assignments which need immediate action. A/2 also feels A/19 is becoming a potential security risk. He has borrowed rather substantial sums of money from various banks and from numerous friends and acquaintances which he has invested in speculative ventures. He has even tried to pressure A/2 into loans from AEBEEHIVE. A/2 said he would rather not become involved in any way when A/19's creditors begin to make themselves heard.

A raise in the salaries of Munich office employees is presently under consideration and will become effective in the very near future. A/2 said that the increase would probably amount to 10 percent of the total.

2. A/2 reported the following which is probably already known to those involved in STASHINSKY case. ^{France} The existence of Leon STADNYK, A (59 rue St. Pierre, Marseille B. du R.) became known when he sent in a subscription to the Zch/OUN journal. STADNYK is the illegitimate son of STASHYNSKY's father. His mother died when he was three.

According to A/2, the Germans know about STADNYK and have been in touch with him, but have refused him permission to visit STASHYNSKY. illegitimate brother of Bogdan M. Stashynsky, []

3. A Miss Carolyn FEGAN (64 Eastfield Lane, Huntington Station, New York) showed Roman MAC (an AECASSOWARY contact) a letter she received from a young student with whom she became friendly when she was studying in Kiev recently. The student's name is Yuriy SUKHOVIY, Kiev 4, Krasnoarmeyskaya 46, Kvartira 7. Carolyn asked MAC to help her read the letter which was written in Russian with only certain words and phrases in English. MAC feigned difficulty in reading Russian and promised to have a friend of his translate the letter for her, thereby making the letter available to A/2 who made a photocopy of it. In the letter, a reply to Carolyn's two letters, SUKHOVITY requests continuance of the correspondence between them. SUKHOVITY, a very devoted Komsomol member, is a Ukrainian. Carolyn is a student at Columbia. This correspondence doesn't appear to be of any operational value. This record of it is being made and reported to SR/6 for whatever value it may have in the future.
